

How cheap can we get?

$1395* for the camping trailer that makes all others obsolete. And comes loaded with extras. It's the Mesa III, one of Apache's new Solid-State Campers. With solid walls instead of canvas. Solid ceiling over sleeping areas. Solid, aluminum-framed windows. New road cover. And a new lifting mechanism that moves roof and walls easily into place.

Inside, there's sleeping room for six. All windows are fully draped. There's a three-burner range, dinette, sink, icebox and storage cabinet with sliding plastic drawers. Plus 110-volt duplex outlet. And 12-volt auxiliary light. Then to smooth the road, look for wide-track torsion suspension and low-profile tires.
APACHE® *Plus freight

Apache Solid-State Campers. A whole new concept in trailering. For year-round comfort and good looks, they're unbeatable. (Same goes for that $1395 price tag.) Check the Yellow Pages for your nearest Apache dealer. Vesely Company, Box 372, Lapeer, Michigan.

$1395.

VESELY
COMPANY

