

'72 APACHE

Solid State/Solid Value

Self-storing leveling legs permit quick, accurate trailer leveling on uneven ground.

Easy-cleaning aluminum galley cabinets* are a full 35" high so you never have to stoop while cooking. All Apache sinks* are stainless steel, and large enough for washing standard-size dishes and cooking utensils. Distinctive, full-wall draperies at all windows assure privacy when you want it. Choose from two different interior color combinations.

Removable storage bins* of ABS thermoplastic won't twist or break, are easy to keep clean.

12-volt ceiling light brightens up your Apache from car battery or outside power source.

New Solid State converter lets you operate trailer lights and other 12-volt accessories on 110-volt outside power source or your car battery. Electrical system includes 110-V outlets and 25' power cord.

Space-saving bi-fold cabinet doors of molded ABS thermoplastic open at a touch.

Lockable entrance door permits access to trailer even when it's folded down for travel.

Apache accessories

For campers who want all the comforts.

Porta-Potty® accessory package includes divider curtain.

1.5 cu.-ft. gas refrigerator also operates on 12- or 110-V current.

Automatic, 12,000 B.T.U. gas furnace keeps you cozy warm in cool weather.

The new Power Convenience Accessory Group completes Apache's Solid State comfort story for 1972. It includes a roof-mounted, 12-volt power ventilator to keep the trailer cool in warm weather, remove smoke and odors and help prevent excess humidity. Plus an electric waste pump and city water hook-up system which permits you to connect directly to outside water sources.

Note: Because of anticipated demand for the Power Convenience Group, all 1972 Apache models will be delivered with these extra-cost accessories installed... unless specially ordered otherwise from the factory. To determine the retail price for models equipped with the Power Convenience Accessory Group, add $50.00 to the prices shown in this catalog. For Yuma and Crus models, add $22.00 for the power ventilator only.
