The Solid State Apache was introduced in 1971 and it is still the most revolutionary RV ever to ride the vacation road. Because only Apache gives you the advantages of a folding trailer plus the roominess and security of a travel trailer. On the road it folds down to just 53 inches for more economical, easier towing; yet open it up and you've got spacious living area for six to eight people. And unlike conventional travel trailers, Apache's lighter weight requires only a bolt-on hitch for your car.

The Solid State Apache walls and roof sections are hinged and attached to set up easily in minutes.

Solid Features

The Solid State Apache gives you peace of mind, thanks to its exclusive construction. That means double-panelled walls and insulated ceiling made of rugged ABS thermo-plastic, the space-age material so tough it's used to make safety helmets. It helps keep you cooler in summer and warmer in cooler months. And the 26"-wide door is permanently hinged to the front wall, always ready for immediate use.

The Inside Story

Inside the Apache you get the privacy and quiet you and your family deserve. The sliding picture windows with removable screens are tinted to keep you cooler in summer and add a bit of privacy all the time. Slide them open for a breath of fresh air or slide the draperies closed for complete privacy. And Apache gives you homelike features like big beds with mattresses boxed in steel frames; a practical, full-height kitchen galley; plenty of storage areas; portable toilet storage space; and a 115/12V electric system. All of this, and yet the Traveler's Trailer sets up in minutes, leaving you even more time to enjoy your vacation.

Many Happy Returns . . .

Because Apache quality means years of normal use with minimum upkeep. Thanks to its low profile, it's a lot easier to store out of sight when not in use, too. And the Solid State Apache is a top value when you buy and when you sell, making it one solid investment you can count on.

'78 Apache War Eagles The New Economical, Lightweight Camping Trailer from Apache

Model 5802

Model 5802 interior

Convenient waist-high kitchen galley with ample storage space below.

Steel mattress box frame.

Zippered, tilted windows reduce glare, keep out inclement weather.

Locking security panel for electric power cord, city water connection, water tank fill and sink drain.

www.apacheowners.com

Looking for an economical camping trailer that's quality-built, a breeze to tow, and yet gives you plenty of outstanding features? Well, here it is! The '78 Apache War Eagle.

Tow it behind your car and you'll hardly know it's there. But open it up and you've got two beds with foam mattresses, an icebox, dinette, and a complete kitchen on most models. The new War Eagles are built for people who like to travel light without compromise.

And Apache Means Craftsmanship

The tent portion of every Apache War Eagle is made of tough, weather-resistant vinyl. It has an insulated roof with gear-driven lift system just like on the Solid-State models. And the telescoping arms are concealed inside behind the vinyl walls. But that's not all. The popularly-priced Eagles come with standard tinted zip-up privacy windows which reduce hot glare and keep out inclement weather. The fact that it's an Apache tells you it's quality-built.

Coming Or Going, Apache War Eagles Save Three Ways . . .

At the gas pump, on the road, and in your budget. The War Eagle folds down low to reduce wind resistance. Their lighter weight means you can tow them with today's smaller, more fuel-efficient cars. And they're reasonably priced. Now that's value!

Model 5300
